If you perform a clean install with XP and your computer is still slow then its your hardware or you have the wrong drivers installed.. How to use the tools that Windows 10 offers, like the Program Compatibility How to run older programs in Windows 10 using compatibility settings.. And if you absolutely can't stand XP for whatever reason then switch to linux

Reply by spacetimezi on February 6, 2012 Yes XP is not perfect but hardly slow compared to the bloated and rushed VISTA.. I'm sure there are techs in your town that can help you Either way the rule of thumb is XP for old computers, and 7 for new ones.. Type the name of a program, folder, document, or Internet resource, and Windows will open it for you.. This is not XP's fault The next step is to buy a new computer with 7 You can get a new one for a couple hundred and if you need a great computer for tech then you can build your own for a few hundred as well.
